

for about ten years and have some knowledge of property values.

Q (Mr. Rosenstock). Do you know how the property was owned?

A I understood it was owned by Clinton Main. Clinton died before Clarence. Then at Clinton's death I don't know.

Q It was the property conveyed by Clinton Main to Clarence Z. Main and Ella S. Main, do you recall that? A. Yes, sir.

Q Neither of them were married, isn't that right?

A That's right.

Q And then Clarence passed away and Ella passed away and their sole surviving heirs-at-law, ^{they} died without will, isn't that correct? A. Yes, sir, as far as I know.

Q -Were Virgie G. Eppley who was a Main and married Eppley--

A That's right.

Q -and the incompetent, Clara May Main, unmarried?

A That's right.

Q And Clinton E. Main, the son of Clinton E. Main, Sr.?

A That's right.

Q They were the surviving heirs-at-law of Clarence Z. Main and Ella S. Main, his sister?

A That was my understanding, yes, sir.

RICHARD F. KLINE, a witness produced on the part of the Complainants, being first duly sworn, deposes and says:

By Mr. Rosenstock:

Q Mr. Kline, will you state your full name?

A Richard F. Kline, 203 Grove Boulevard.

Q Your occupation? A. Road builder.

Q Mr. Kline, are you acquainted with the Main property on the south side of West Patrick Street in Frederick?

A Yes, I lived around the corner from it most of my life.

Q Do you know of the relationship between Virgie G. Eppley and Clara May Main and Clinton E. Main, Jr.?
